MHAH Kekaulike Courtyards

Supporting the Chinatown Community Through Food Rescue

Located in the heart of Honolulu's Chinatown, Kekaulike Courtyards is part of Mutual Housing Association of Hawai'i (MHAH) and provides Equal Housing Oppurtunity for residents. With a strong commitment to community involvement, Kekaulike Courtyards offers on-site support and resident services that help meet the needs of its community.

Since partnering with Aloha Harvest, Kekaulike Courtyards has helped distribute more than 154,072 lbs of food to community members. Aloha Harvest delivers food twice a month, and Kekaulike Courtyards immediately distributes it to residents and others in the community who may need it most. This partnership helps make quality food more accessible while keeping good food from going to waste.

Mahalo to Kekaulike Courtyards and Mutual Housing Association of Hawai'i for helping connect rescued food with the Chinatown community. Together, we're working to waste less and feed more.

"This service makes a big difference in our community. There are a lot of people who don't have access to going to the store, and I'm glad this food can be brought to our community instead of going to waste"

— Joni Tayama, Mutual Housing Association of Hawai'i Administrator

Niko Niko Sushi

Making Every Meal Count

From bentos and musubi to sushi and more, Niko Niko Sushi prepares a variety of fresh, ready-to-eat foods at its two O‘ahu locations: inside Marukai Wholesale Mart and in ‘Aiea. Through daily pickups, Aloha Harvest helps ensure surplus food gets a second chance to nourish our community instead of going to waste.

Since partnering with Aloha Harvest, Niko Niko Sushi has helped rescue and redistribute more than 283,668 lbs of food. For the team, minimizing food waste is especially important because many of its ingredients come from animals. While it can be difficult to predict exactly how much food to prepare each day, this partnership gives surplus food a purpose beyond the store.

Mahalo to Niko Niko Sushi for helping keep good food out of landfills and getting it to people who need it the most.

“A lot of the things we use are meat products, things that have life, so it’s important to us not to waste. You don’t always know exactly how much to make, but knowing the food can be utilized for another purpose where people can actually eat it is important to us.”

— Andrew, Niko Niko Sushi

Fuel the Rescue Gala

Together, we raised $136,947!

On August 14, 2026, Aloha Harvest hosted our Fuel the Rescue fundraising gala at the Harry & Jeanette Weinberg Ho‘okupu Center to raise funds for a new refrigerated food rescue truck.

Guests enjoyed chef tasting stations, live music, and an evening dedicated to supporting our mission. Thanks to the generosity of everyone who attended, donated, and sponsored the event, we raised $136,947, surpassing our $120,000 goal!

This support will help us rescue and redistribute more quality surplus food to community organizations across O‘ahu. Mahalo to everyone who helped make this possible and continues to support our mission to nourish our community.

Your generosity brings us one step closer to getting more good food to the people who need it most.

Fuel the Rescue Gala

Mahalo to Our Fuel the Rescue Sponsors

Fuel the Rescue was made possible by the generous sponsors, partners, and supporters who came together to help Aloha Harvest move its mission forward. Your contributions helped make this special evening possible and brought us closer to our goal of funding a new refrigerated food rescue truck.

Mahalo to Hy's Steak House and Brandon Bernal; Kupu and Sean Priester; The Pig and The Lady and Andrew Le; Mud Hen Water and Ed Kenney; Minasa Hawai'i and Mark Maleko; Tiki's Grill & Bar and Ronnie Nasuti; Vintage Books and Keith Endo; Ahi & Vegetable and Paul Santos; and Chick-fil-A and Chef Jeremy Shigekane for contributing to the evening's tasting experience. Thank you to Fujioka Wine Times and Beerworks Honolulu for the drinks, Olena Heu for serving as our evening emcee, and Kala'e Camarillo for providing live entertainment.

A special mahalo to our sponsors for investing in Aloha Harvest's mission. Your generosity helped us raise $136,947, surpass our $120,000 goal, and move one step closer to a new refrigerated food rescue truck. Thank you for helping us rescue more quality surplus food and nourish our O'ahu community.
